

NFJS One provides access to the top technical talent in the industry. Our services include: in-depth public and private training sessions, project consulting engagements, team mentoring, and on-site private events.

Investing in your people should be your number one priority

The benefits of keeping your folks sharp and ahead of the curve are endless:

- Increase your organization's productivity
- Reduce development costs
- Accelerate employees' learning curves

The NFJS One Model:

NFJS One takes pride in ensuring a recognized expert is matched to your organizational strategies and initiatives. Whether it be a private 3 day training class on a specific tool, an organizational assessment, a project coach, etc. Our first goal is to get a grasp on your environment today.

- What are your strengths/weaknesses (toolset, process, initiatives, etc)?
- What challenges are preventing you from meeting your goals?

Once we come to an agreement on services and benefits, NFJS One will align you to one of our 75+ experts – ensuring this person is a 5 star resource on the subject matter at hand.

Training:

Our courses range from beginner to expert on various tools, process, frameworks, languages and more. We align our courses to your environment, and don't come in for a lecture – be prepared to get your hands dirty and leave ready to use what you've learned tomorrow.

Mentoring/Consulting:

We have various models to meet our customer requirements, including organizational assessments, agile coaching, and technology evaluations

Private Events:

NFJS One is an entity of the No Fluff Just Stuff Software Symposium. If you are ready to host a professional conference with the best speakers in the industry – NFJS One is your provider.
